Getting to Kanazawa

Best of Kanazawa, Samurai Town

History and Tradition

Kanazawa is a castle town that was ruled by 14 generations of the Maeda family, the lords of Kaga Domain, starting in the 16th century. During the 280 years of the Maeda family's rule, Kanazawa Castle was at the centre of the city, and the townscape that symbolises Kanazawa today was formed and flourished, which includes Kenrokuen Garden, the outer garden of the Kaga Domain lords; the Nagamachi Samurai District, the residential district of middle-class samurai; Omicho Market, where Kanazawa's food products were gathered; and three teahouse districts, where wealthy merchants socialised.

In addition, since the city was not bombarded during the War, and has not been affected by any major natural disasters for over 430 years, it has retained its old townscapes.

KANAZAWA -A Heritage of Cultural Excellence- \(YouTube\)

Traditional Arts

The Maeda family was wealthy, and used its financial power not for the military but for culture. The lords encouraged both the samurai and the general population to enjoy culture, which is why it still has a strong presence in people's lives today.

Kanazawa's Patronage of Traditional Japanese Culture

Geishas

There are three chaya (teahouse) districts in Kanazawa. Kanazawa is one of only a few cities in Japan with about 40 geishas.

Noh Theater

The Maeda family loved Noh plays and promoted the learning of this type of theater. Kanazawa was known as a town where "Noh chants fall from the heavens"

Tea Ceremony

The tea ceremony flourished in Kanazawa as one of the cultural activities that samurai should master. You can experience the spirit of the tea ceremony.

Traditional Crafts

There are 26 kinds of traditional crafts in Kanazawa, including gold leaf and Kaga Yuzen dyeing. Kanazawa was designated as a member of the UNESCO Creative Cities Network in the field of Crafts and Folk Art. You can observe how traditional crafts are produced, learn craft-making techniques, and make some crafts for yourself.

The Epicenter of Traditional Japanese Crafts

Gold Leaf

Gold leaf is only as thin as 1/10,000 mm. More than 99% of Japan's gold leaf is produced in Kanazawa. In December 2020, the gold leaf production method of "Entsuke Kinpaku" was registered as a UNESCO Intangible Cultural Heritage.

Kaga Yuzen Dyeing

Yuzen is one of the kimono dyeing techniques. Kaga yuzen is characterised by realistic, picturesque designs that express the beauty of realistic nature.

Cuisine

From its lush mountains to its rich coastlines, Kanazawa produces an endless variety of ingredients to enrich its famous cuisine.

The city's food culture features good ingredients, cooking skills, lovely serving dishes, unique architecture, and warm hospitality. Many tourists come from all over the world to experience Kanazawa's food culture.

Kanazawa Cuisine: A Delight to the Senses

Ryotei (Kaga Cuisine)

Kanazawa is a treasure trove of food ingredients, and you can taste with all your senses the high quality cuisine that has been described as the culmination of Japanese culture.

Seafood

With some of our best fishing grounds in Japan nearby, you can enjoy fresh, high-quality seafood, including prawns, crabs and yellowtails. In particular, sushi and sashimi eaten raw are extremely popular.

Art and Architecture

Although many of the historical neighborhoods of Kanazawa's era as a castle town remain intact, that doesn't mean the city is frozen in time. Modern structures have sprung up as Kanazawa has progressed, but the ties to tradition are strong ones, and there is a coexistence of the contemporary and the traditional everywhere you look.

Visit Kanazawa to witness how a modern city can coexist with and even repurpose its historical buildings to become the perfect blend of past and future.

Four Seasons

Kanazawa, whose original city structure with Kanazawa Castle at its heart has been preserved to this day, presents distinctly different faces in each of the four seasons. Every new season ushers in uniquely beautiful scenery, events, and seasonal foods to experience.

Kanazawa Castle Park

Kanazawa Castle was the ruling seat of the Maeda Clan, who controlled the area including Kanazawa. Large parts of the castle were burnt down over the course of two major fires, but they have since been restored. The castle is now available to the public as a park. The outer wall is particularly eye-catching for the variety of stone wall types that is employed and the beautiful scenery surrounding it. It is often called “the museum of stone walls.”

Gyokusen-inmaru Garden

This garden was restored and opened to the public in 2015. It is a daimyo garden used by the Maeda Clan along with Kenrokuen Garden.

Kenrokuen Garden

Kenrokuen Garden is one of the three most beautiful gardens in Japan. Situated next to Kanazawa Castle Park, it is daimyo garden founded during the Edo period (1603–1867) by the Maeda Clan, the feudal lords of Kaga dom, for their private use. The construction took place over several decades. Visitors can enjoy the cherry blossoms in the spring, fresh greenery in the summer, colorful foliage in the fall, and a snow-covered wonderland in the winter. No matter how many times you visit, there is always something new to see!

Motenashi (Welcome) Dome & Tsuzumi-mon Gate

Kanazawa station was chosen as one of the world's 14 most beautiful train stations. Kanazawa sees a lot of rain and snow, so the Motenashi Dome was designed to be an umbrella for visitors and travelers. The majestic Tsuzumi-mon Gate stands in front of the dome and evokes the image of the tsuzumi drums used in Noh theatre, one of Kanazawa's traditional arts.

Shiinoki Cultural Complex

The Shiinoki Cultural Complex was a part of the previous prefectural government building (constructed in 1924). The front side of the building maintains the original bricks, and the opposite side provides a modern space with glass windows.

The Shiinoki Cultural Complex harmonized with two shiinoki acorn trees (estimated to be 300 years old) has a restaurant & café, conference rooms and a hall as well as a outdoor plaza, which is also recommended for MICE use.

Unique venue

Four seasons

There is nowhere better to enjoy the cherry blossoms than the Kanazawa Castle grounds and the adjacent Kenrokuen Garden.

Spring

Many popular locations are illuminated after sunset, including the romantic views outside the Ishikawa-mon Gate leading to the castle and the riverbank near the Asanogawa Ohashi Bridge.

Summer

No festival is more important to Kanazawa than the Hyakumangoku festival. This festival commemorates the occasion when the revered lord of the Kaga domain, Maeda Toshiie, first settled in Kanazawa Castle.

Summer attraction in Kanazawa

Autumn

The turning of leaves begins in late October. Kenrokuen Garden, one of the best spots to enjoy the fall colors, is lit up after nightfall starting from early November to the end of the month. Apart from the famous garden, Mt. Utatsu, Daijōji Temple, and the old site of Mr. Kurando Terashima's samurai house also feature stunning views of the annual fall foliage.

Autumn Attractions in Kanazawa

Winter

You can witness the skillful setting up yukitsuri, an ancient method of protecting the city's beautiful, manicured trees from winter's heavy snowfall. The graceful yukitsuri ropes are beautiful to behold and are a symbol of the approaching winter.

Another traditional defense against the snowy winter is the straw mats lining the mud walls of the Nagamachi Buke Yashiki district. The mats along with the snow-covered roofs and stone pavement create a scene from the Edo period.

Kanazawa – Tsuruga to be opened in spring 2024

The Hokuriku Shinkansen line between Kanazawa and Tsuruga will open in the spring of 2024. The extension will connect Kanazawa to Toyama and Fukui, the major cities in Hokuriku, in 20 minutes, dramatically improving travel within the Hokuriku area.

National Crafts Museum, opened on Oct. 25, 2020

The only national museum in Japan specialising in crafts and design. The museum has a total collection of about 4,000 items in the fields of ceramics, glass, lacquer work, woodwork, bamboo work, dyeing and weaving, dolls, metalwork, industrial design and graphic design.

The museum is housed in two former military buildings dating back to the early 1900s, which were dismantled and reconstructed in Kanazawa. The buildings' facades have been restored to their original vibrancy.

The area is packed with historical buildings and cultural facilities, such as Kenrokuen Garden, where you can enjoy a cultural walking tour.

Les Tonnelles

A French restaurant in Kanazawa, the city known for its rich food, which owns a vast vineyard and serves dishes in which the vegetables harvested there play a starring role. The concept is that the distance between the restaurant and its customers should be zero.

The dome-shaped paper tube architecture designed by Shigeru Ban, a leading Japanese architect, and the real grape trellises installed indoors are very unique. Visitors can take a walk around the farm and enjoy dishes featuring freshly picked vegetables, while being briefed on the restaurant's commitment to local production for local consumption and the SDGs.

KANAZAWA Architecture Tourism

Kanazawa is fortunate not to have experienced any major natural disasters or battles, so many historic sites, such as the Chaya (Tea house) and Bukeyashiki (Samurai) districts, can still be found around the city today. Buildings with modern architecture, like the 21st Century Museum of Contemporary Art, are also all around. Kanazawa strives to preserve its historic spaces and achieve harmony between traditional and modern architecture. Visitors will experience both the grace of tradition and the vibrancy of the modernity while they are here.

Kanazawa's Event

"Kanazawa Hyakumangoku Festival", the largest festival in Kanazawa, is a traditional three-day event held annually on the first Saturday of June in memory of the great deeds of the Lord Toshiie Maeda, the founder of the Kaga Domain. Various events are held throughout Kanazawa, including the Hyakumangoku parade (Saturday), which reenacts his entry to Kanazawa Castle.

"Kanazawa A Capella Town", a capella street live performances in the city centre in late August, "Kanazawa JAZZ STREET" in mid-September and the "Kanazawa Marathon", a full marathon on the last Sunday of October, are some of the large-scale events held throughout the city. On the day of the Hyakumangoku Parade, central Kanazawa will be extremely crowded, and on the day of the Kanazawa Marathon, there will be extensive traffic restrictions throughout the city, making hotel reservations difficult to obtain.

Events
